

Question 8

Part A

You will hear a history teacher giving a talk about Sydney Harbour Bridge. Listen to the talk and complete the sentences in Part A. Write one or two words, or a number, in each gap.

You will hear the talk twice.

Sydney Harbour Bridge

The Official Celebration happened to mark the opening of the bridge in _____.

[1]

In fact, the bridge is only the _____ longest of its kind in the entire world.

[1]

Steel is the material that the bridge is made of, most of it was imported from England.

At each last point of the steel arch, there is a huge post, named a pylon, which is similar to a _____.

[1]

John Bradfield, the _____ of the bridge, was in charge of the whole project and he was named "Father of The Bridge".

As construction was finally finished, and _____ had been done, the bridge was announced to be safe for the people.

[1]

[1]

[Total: 5]

Part B

Now listen to a conversation between two students about Sydney Harbour Bridge and complete the sentences in Part B. Write one or two words only in each gap.
You will hear the conversation twice.

Research on Sydney Harbour Bridge

The bridge has got eight lanes for traffic, and couple of railway lines, and there are pathways for pedestrians and _____ as well.

[1]

There's a toll for cars going one direction over the bridge, but it's free of charge if they're going _____.

[1]

The name, "The _____" also used to be used for the bridge as that is a machine which doctors used to let people breathe when they had an illness like Polio.

[1]

During the opening ceremony, a totally anonymous person rode up on a horse and cut it with a _____ and he was arrested as a result of his deed.

[1]

The public was prevented to _____ the bridge before the bridge's 50th anniversary.

[1]

[Total: 5]